Brand Guidelines

Our brand guidelines

This document has been created to outline our corporate design and visually translate our core values into who we are. It makes our activities recognizable and they provide a tangible overview of what we stand for. With our corporate design, we strengthen our brand awareness and distinguish ourselves from our competitors. It makes us stand out as an organization among our target groups.

Communicate together as one

The saying goes: 'Exceptions prove the rule'. But a corporate design is only a corporate design if everyone sticks to it. Whether you like the color or not, we communicate together as one. Our activities only become visible for us if they are all communicated in the same style, with one recognizable sender. Without exception.

Apply consistently

The combination of all these elements creates a clearly recognizable corporate design, but only if we apply them adequately and consistently. Together we will ensure that these elements form a corporate design and that they become clearly distinguishable as a whole. In this way we make all our activities recognizable.

The elements

Our corporate identity consists of the following elements:

- Brand Guidelines
- Logos (icon and name)
- Colors
- Elements
- Typography
- Presentation Templates
- Stationary
- Social Media

Always maintain spacing around the logo

Everyone needs a little personal space. In order to ensure that our logo and elements are clearly visible in all applications, surround them with sufficient breathing room free of any type, graphics, visuals and any other elements that might cause clutter. To ensure the integrity and legibility of the logo lockup, the area directly surrounding them should be protected.

Our identity is comprised of two main elements, the square and the logotype. When used together the relationship (physical space) between both elements is the key part of our visual identity.

Our logo is a bold, simple, graphic statement. It's the most visible part of our brand and one of our most valuable assets. We must ensure proper usage.

The orange dashed line is the minimum amount of space that's needed for the logo. The green dashed line indicate the size of the square of which the spacing is based off, it's half the height of the logo, with out the curly ears of the G's. (These are the square with grey thick diagonal lines.) That same square will determine the space between the logo type and the orange square box
